

Calor Berkshire Village of the Year 2006

was

Aldermaston

We not only won the overall competition but also won the separate awards for:

- business involvement
- ICT
- young people

Aldermaston now goes forward to the regional final. The judging of this takes place on Thursday 26th April. Click here to see Aldermaston's entry submission.

Aldermaston Parish Council wishes to thank the whole community for the very special effort that was devoted to making the village entry in the Berkshire competition so successful.

Special thanks are due to Sally-Anne Martin who took on the task of co-ordinating our entry, and also to a very long list of people and organisations that made the judges feel that they were seeing a form of community involvement that would not have been out of place in a village of 3000 people but was quite exceptional in a village as small as Aldermaston.
